

SPLENDID NEW HOME OF THE VIRGINIA CLUB OF NORFOLK

THE NEW VIRGINIA CLUB BUILDING.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NORFOLK, VA., April 4.—The Virginia Club building, on the site of the historic Newton house, at the corner of Plume and Granby Streets, has been run up to the height of one story already. Work is being pushed rapidly and, when completed this will be one of the finest and most modern club buildings in the South and by far the most ornamental building in the business section of Norfolk. As will be seen from the picture, from an aesthetic standpoint it will be a triumph of architecture.

The first story of the building is of white Powhatan brick. The five stories above the first are to be of yellow Norman brick, with decorations of terra cotta and quoins of white Powhatan brick. From the basement—the feature of which will be a restaurant, and in which will be the barber shop, baths and heating plant—to the roof garden above the sixth story, the building will be exclusively for the uses of the club.

The entrance to the building is on Plume Street, where there is a frontage of 100 feet. There will be no entrance on Granby Street, but there will be a balcony running the full width of the building, which is thirty-four feet. The feature of the entrance will be massive wrought-iron grill gates. On the right of the vestibule will be the service room; on the left the strangers' and ladies' reception rooms. Fronting Granby Street are lounging rooms. To the right of the office will be the billiard room. There will be three tables with wall seats around.

On the second floor will be a reading room, opening upon a terrace on Granby Street, a large meeting room, the governors' room and five card rooms. The third and fourth floors will be used for bed rooms. There will be nine of these, five with private baths. All are large and airy, with south or western exposure.

The club dining-rooms are on the fifth floor. The main dining-room occupies the rear portion and is 25x35 feet. The decorations in this room will be the finest in the State. In the center, facing the south, are two private dining-rooms, while on the Granby Street front is the ladies' dining-room, connecting with a small reception room and attractive alcove.

The sixth story will contain the kitchen, complete in every detail as any hotel pantry, store-rooms, serving-rooms, sleeping accommodations for the steward and servants and other apartments connected with a kitchen.

One of the features of the club will be the glass-enclosed roof garden and ball-room, 80x20 feet, on the seventh floor. The floor will be especially constructed with a view to dancing, and future assemblies will be held there.

The furnishings will be in keeping with the general dignified appearance of the building. Complete, the new home will cost the Virginia Club about $60,000.

The Building Committee, under whose direction this work is done, is composed of: Fergus Reid, chairman; Caldwell Hardy, vice-chairman; E. T. Lamb, Judge Allan Hancock, T. E. Wilcox and E. C. Fosburg. The officers of the club are: Caldwell Hardy, president; E. T. Lamb, vice-president; Fergus Reid, treasurer; J. Leighton Hubard, secretary.

NEW WATER SUPPLY FOR THREE CITIES

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NORFOLK, VA., April 4.—The enlarged and improved main pumping station of the Portsmouth, Berkeley and Suffolk Water Company, at Lake Kilby, will soon be completed and immediately thereafter it will be put in commission. It will be one of the most modern plants in the country and is to have a pumping capacity sufficient to supply not only all three cities dependent upon it, but also to accommodate any increase of population reasonably to be expected within the next twenty years. That is, say, 10,000,000 gallons. This company is building for the future and no further increase in the capacity of its plant will be necessary, within the life of the machinery that is to be installed in the new pumping plant.

Mr. George Harnung, the general manager of the water company, says that with the unlimited supply of water at Lake Kilby, the cities of Portsmouth, Suffolk and Berkeley will never be in danger of a water famine. The new plant will be in operation. The present station is adequate for the needs of Portsmouth and Suffolk, which are the only cities at present supplied, but the new plant will also be able to supply Berkeley with ease and it will even then have a tremendous reserve capacity.

The present pumping plants in Portsmouth and Berkeley will be discontinued, although they will not be dismantled. The water will go to Berkeley through the submerged pipe across the Southern Branch and the wells there will form a sufficient reserve, or emergency supply, for both places as is needed.

The discontinuance of the local pumping plants will be in the way of economy. The new plant will have sufficient power to distribute the water throughout the three cities, under good pressure, which may readily be increased to that required in case of fire, without intermediate distributing pumping houses.

The plant will be the only one in the country pumping water thus, over a distance of twenty miles. The pressure necessary to force three million gallons used daily, through such a length of pipe will make the strain on the tubes severe. Mr. Harnung has arranged to relieve this tremendous pressure by pipe valves located along the pipe line, so that instead of the pipe bursting under extraordinary pressure, it will relieve itself, just as a locomotive or steam engine does through its safety valve.

The amount of water pumped into Portsmouth from the new plant will be carefully measured possibly by great meters, but this will be for the company's information and does not mean the introduction of meters in the city is contemplated.

A VIRGINIA SCHOLAR.

Notable Literary Work of Dr. J. L. Hall of William and Mary.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
WILLIAMSBURG, VA., April 4.—Dr. John Leslie Hall, professor of English and History in William and Mary College, is probably the foremost Anglo-Saxon translator in Virginia or the South.

Dr. Hall's first noted literary attempt was the production of a drama entitled "Judah." This work brought this young author before the public and established him as a writer of marked ability. Dr. Hall then turned his attention to the translation of Anglo-Saxon poetry. His first production was the translation of "Beowulf." This won for him unstinted praise from critics at home and abroad. No less successful was his "Old English Idylls," so well known to literateurs in this country and Europe. Now comes his latest work, "Judith, Phoenix and other Anglo-Saxon Poems." This latest work of Dr. Hall promises to firmly establish him as one of the foremost Anglo-Saxon scholars in America.

Among the many favorable criticisms made of this work is one from the Baltimore Sun, written by Benjamin Blood, of Wake Forest College. In part it says: "Dr. Hall certainly occupies the foremost position among Anglo-Saxon scholars in America. This position he has won not only by thorough and painstaking work, but also by an enthusiastic love for all things Anglo-Saxon and its spring, which is convincing. Dr. Hall's translation of 'Beowulf' appeared some ten years ago, and this warm welcome given it, both at home and abroad, has encouraged the author to put forth the present volume. The translation in the volume before us becomes the interpreter and the poet. The present work contains some of the very finest poems in Anglo-Saxon literature. . . . Altogether Dr. Hall's success is unquestionable and both scholars and general readers owe him a debt of gratitude."

Mr. Blunt Very Ill.

Mrs. Walter J. Blunt was called to New York Thursday night by the sickness of her son John, who lies seriously ill in the Presbyterian Hospital.

Groundhog Captured in York County Regarded as a Great Curiosity.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

YORKTOWN, VA., April 4.—One of the rarest specimens of animal life ever seen in this vicinity was captured by a young negro a few days ago, several miles out of town. The animal was a ground hog, the only specimen of his kind ever seen in this section or ever heard of. The animal resembled very much a diminutive short, having all the porcine points, with the exception of the feet, which were short and stubbed, bushy like a rabbit. The little fellow made a desperate resistance, fiercely attacking any one who came within ten feet of him. He utterly refused to eat any food and finally died of starvation.

The training ship Lancaster will go to Hampton Roads about May 1st for inspection by Admiral Dewey, and thence to League Island navy-yard, to go out of commission on the 15th.

The large peach orchard of Mr. J. R. Hogge, on Water View farm, has quite a promising outlook for a heavy crop.

This orchard is as large as any in this portion of the Peninsula, and, barring accident, should yield at least 2,000 crates of choice fruit, beside a quantity of second class or culls. This section is becoming more and more of a fruit raising country each recurring year. Peaches are the standard fruit, but the Kiefer pear also has a strong hold, and is being raised in large quantities.

Mr. John Provost, the most ancient of York county's inhabitants, died at his home in Fish Neck a few days ago. He was between eighty-five and ninety years of age, and had lived in the county all his life. He came of French ancestry.

Mrs. T. S. Harris, of Harris Grove, has returned home, after spending a week with her sister, Mrs. W. W. Hogge, of Newport News.

Mr. George E. Bryan, the present commissioner of revenue, has positively refused to again stand for the position, having served four terms or more in office.

Mrs. Clara Chandler and her two friends from Hampton, Misses Annie Tannis and Beale Lankford, spent an evening the past week aboard the Lancaster, the guests of Captain Patrick, Paymaster G. S. Blair and Lieutenant Syphers. Master J. Robbie Chandler was also an invited guest.
